

GAY GILL WINS “WHAT I LOVE ABOUT LIBERTY COUNTY” CONTEST

November 18, 2014

Congratulations to Gay Gill, winner of the Office of the Clerk of Courts of Liberty County’s Fall 2014 “What I love most about Liberty County Contest”.

After liking the office’s Facebook site (i.e. Office of the Clerk of Courts of Liberty County), Ms. Gill submitted a narrative describing what about Liberty County is most endearing to her. Her and other contestants’ entries were subsequently evaluated by Clerk’s Office staff, with contestants’ names redacted from entries so as to eliminate potential subjectivity during the judging process. There were numerous superb entries submitted, which made the judging process extremely difficult.

Ms. Gill submitted the following:

“There are so many things that I love about Liberty County. I feel blessed to live in a county with so much history and beauty. God has surrounded us with some of the most beautiful live oak trees filled with Spanish moss, majestic pine trees, and a magnificent coast with great fishing, fascinating birds and other wildlife. Last, but not least, I love the Southern hospitality!”

Thank you to everyone who took time to participate in the contest. Please continue to watch for other contests in the future announced on the office’s Facebook page and its website at www.libertyco.com.

(Note: No public or taxpayers’ monies are used to fund this contest. The cash prize is paid for solely and personally by F. Barry Wilkes, Clerk of Courts of Liberty County).
